Dedication

"They used to call me the young headmaster ...

The coming of the 90's brought sorrowful news to the members of the Rowland Hall — St. Mark's community: Headmaster A. Thomas Jackson would leave after the 89-90 school year to become headmaster of the Woodward Academy in Atlanta, Georgia. After nine years under the direction of Mr. Jackson, RHSM has undergone significant changes and has become one of the most prestigious private schools in the West. The year Mr. Jackson arrived, 1981, there were sixteen graduates. In 1990, RHSM graduated forty-one students. In 1981, the total number of students in the lower and upper schools was three hundred. Now there are more than that in the Upper School alone. The number of faculty rose along with the student population. Although Rowland Hall has grown, the close relationships between students and teachers have remained the same. Mr. Jackson instituted new activities and a broader sports program. He also participated in the purchase of the Upper School campus and the renovation of the Lower School. RHSM has grown and improved during Mr. Jackson's tenure. Therefore, we dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Jackson. We would like to thank him for nine years of devoted service. We wish him good luck in his future ventures.

I don't know why they don't anymore!"

Newspaper

The 89-90 Gazette staff performed under the instruction of Barbara Boardman. Editor-in-chief, Linda Lai; assistant editor, Chris Nixon; advertising manager, Sayuri Itabashi; and photography manager, Melinda Montgomery guided forty student staff members over the course of three trimesters. "Learning to be critical of media is an important lesson for students," said Mrs. Boardman, pointing out an additional benefit of taking the class.

New College Counselor Hired

by Ashly Moore
 grade 12
 Joanne Letendre has stepped smoothly into her position as the new RHSM college counselor, filling the position after the resignation of last year's counselor, Pat Goldsmith, who in late summer accepted a job offer as Director of Recruitment the nation, including one candidate from Harvard University. According to Dr. Carl Sturges, she was chosen for her long experience doing exactly this kind of work. She has worked for seven years as a college counselor at private schools similar to RHSM and as an sly who encouraged so. She followed this graduating in 1974 Notre Dame College, Hampshire, where she received a B.A. in Education. She then went to the University of New Hampshire for graduate school, graduating in 1979. M.Ed. in counseling

Peer Counseling

This year's Peer Counselors were Grace Kong, Ava Amiri, Ali Wilson, Chris Mark, Dominique Rampton, Marianne Maw, Jennifer Sexton, Menasheh Fogel, Kitty Northrop, and Sara Rock. They were a dedicated, caring support group who committed themselves to educating students about drugs, alcohol, sex, and other issues. The Peer Counselors showed concern for the environment by encouraging recycling and conservation of resources. Each peer counselor contributed to the decoration of the peer counseling room to make it enjoyable and relaxing for all of the RHSM students.

Debate

Although under new direction, the debate team proved itself worthy of RHSM's standards. The team members were Scott Alder, Jane Barrett, Benjamin Dahl, Garrett Delavan, Iris Faraklas, Elizabeth Goldstein, Adam Haigh, Alison Hermance, Phillip Johnson, Eric Langheinrich, Dylan Moench, James Murdock, Mona Okada, Matthew Prince, Dan Ray, Alex Reid, Hillary Rogers, Ed Salmon, Lithe Sebesta, Bobby Siegel, Antonia Stang, Nathan Straight, Lesa Sullivan, Christopher Swindle, Heather Van-Deventer, and Michelle Wade. The captains were Matt Rogers, Sutton Snook, and Alex McClain. Under the direction of Jim Coombs, policy coach, and Frank Langheinrich, speed coach, the team members refined their skills and earned many trophies and awards.

What do they say about too many navigators?

Picture a school in a national park near the base of one of the most beautiful mountains in the world; a small creek, full of fish, runs next to it. Wildlife, ranging from birds to beavers, hoof, slither, fly or slink across the campus and classes are rarely held in a classroom. Now that the image is fixed in your mind, add some RHSM biology students, and a couple of teachers, and you have pictured a typical session at Teton Science School. Students and teachers had fun learning skills such as tracking, studying the effects of fire, observing birds, watching nature in action, and eating healthy food. Teton Science School, in its beautiful setting, helps many people understand natural science, knowledge which stays with them for the rest of their lives.

Student Council

Adria Muir is the missing member of the Middle School Council.

The 1989/1990 Student Council is made up of fourteen capable officers working to represent the student body. The council includes Adam Carroll, president; Cassie Ferguson, vice-president; Mona Okada, secretary; Rick Rauschmeier, treasurer; Mika Kato, publicity director; Jon Hodge, senior class president; Dominique Rampton, vice-president; Chris Nixon, junior class president; Grace Kong, vice-president; Stephen Spurgeon, sophomore class president; Adam Haigh, vice-president; James Murdock, freshman class president; Jeanna Nixon, vice-president; Jon Bone, eighth grade president; Avid Amiri, vice-president; Emily Wood, seventh grade president; Adria Muir, vice-president; and Mrs. Olsen, their faculty representative.

The Student Council was responsible for the organization and planning of high school dances, including the "Hello" dance and Christmas dance. The Student Council was an active participant in the Sub-for-Santa Program. Working to expand the freedoms and liberties of the student body is one of the goals of the Student Council.

Art Club

This year's Art Club provided an excellent opportunity for all students interested in applying their artistic ability through various activities, including making holiday crafts, tie dyeing cloth, and designing the art club sweatshirt. Officers were Kelly Hannah, president; Jeremiah Thompson, vice-president; Cassie Ferguson, secretary; and Brooke Baughman, publicity director. The Art Club, according to Justine Jereb, senior, is "essentially a great way to have fun with arts and crafts and not be graded."

The Boyfriend

Dave Hall and Heather Seybolt tango their way into our hearts,

Perfect Young Ladies

Will you marry me?

This past November, the Upper School produced The Boyfriend, which many agreed was RHSM's best musical yet. The play was set in the French Riviera during the 1920's, at an exclusive finishing school for "perfect" British young ladies. Audiences were delighted every night of its performance, especially during the vibrant Charleston numbers. Tony Larimer was director; Joan Kingston, choreographer; Rick McClure, music director; Chikahide Komura, lighting designer; and Heather Ure, a junior, was assistant director. The highly talented cast included Elizabeth Goldstein, Marianne Maw, Reagan Tolboe, Nikole Paulos, Alice Mitchell, Heather VanDeventer, Mark Kulmer, Nathan Straight, Hillary Rogers, Juliann Lee, Lithe Sebesta, Erik Stromberg, Matt Rogers, Christopher Lee, Ryan Boehme, Alison Hermance, Issac Jeppsen, Scott Alder, Danielle Jones, Heather Seybolt, and a tangoing guest star, Dave Hall, a.k.a. Pepe. A sizeable band of eighteen members was accompanied by Jason Dunlop, an junior, on keyboard. Several other students were also involved in the artistic and technical aspects of the production. In fact, 15% of the student body participated in the musical, making its great success possible.

Won't you Charleston with me?

Hubert!

Jason and Rick helped provide music for the play.

Candle And Carol

Candle and Carol is a Christmas tradition enjoyed by students and faculty alike. The service was held on the eve of Christmas vacation in the Cathedral of Saint Mark. Readers included Amy Buchi, Kitty Northrop, Kara Kim, Justine Jereb, Ali Wilson, Jon Hodge, Kelly Hannah, and Dominique Rampton. Many students participated in the service as acolytes. Raggs Reagan gave the Christmas sermon on light. Rick McClure directed the RHSM chorus and accompanied Jason Dunlop on the piano, filling the Cathedral with festive holiday music. The Reverend George E. Bates was present to give a Christmas blessing.

Hawk Study

During the month of September in the year of 1989, a group of Rowland Hall-St. Mark's students, faculty, and friends embarked on an adventure of study, learning, and conservation. The participants, Scott Alder, Rachel Kulmer, Menasheh Fogel, Luther Light, Phil Johnson, Suzanne Palmer, John Bone, David Early, Cassie Ferguson, Adam Strachan, Laurie Carpenter, Mary Kay Lehto, and Lanai Greenhalgh hiked to a peak in the Goshute Mountains to watch raptors. While trapping, banding, measuring, weighting, and releasing the raptors, they learned how the birds survive in a world which has been taken over by humans. After the weekend in the mountains without a shower, the group came home tired and hungry and with an increased knowledge of raptors.

Literary Magazine

This year's Literary Magazine staff includes Barnaby Arnott, Brian Conner, Liz Goldstein, Debbie Kochenour, Dar Quealy, Hillary Rogers, Stephen Spurgeon, Lesa Sullivan, and Heather Ure under the direction of Carol Kranes. Last year, the Rowland Hall-St. Mark's Mosaic won the highest writing award from the Columbia Scholastic Press for high school literary magazines. Many of this year's members have also won individual writing awards. The Literary Magazine includes writing and artwork from grades 7 through 12 and from the faculty. In February, each of the talented staff members contributed to the editing and selection of creative works.

Middle School Retreat

This is too intense!

I didn't put on my makeup!

We are definitely cool.

But will they be friends tomorrow?

All this and brains, too!

Did Margie finally run out of energy?

It's okay, Menasheh. I'm tired too.

Pensive Joe Heinbecker

Everyone had a swingin' time at the retreat.

We got a teacher under here.

Batter up!

Courtney flipped over the Middle School retreat.

A rare sight — Anthony and Dan standing still.

Friendship is what it's all about.

The always-smiling Anthony Kirk.

Can we let go of each other now?

Ann Leppert is caught in mid-stride.

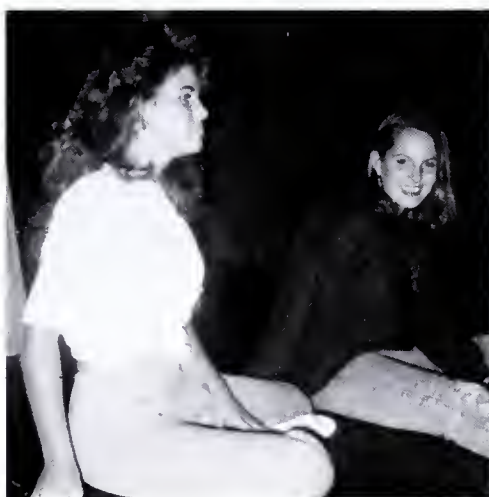

If we don't hold on, we'll all fall down.

Dance

The dance program at Rowland Hall includes experienced and beginner dancers. Dance teaches students, both boys and girls, grades 9 through 12, self-esteem and creativity. Dance is a form of self expression: every dancer is unique. Each dancer is a "poet in motion," says Mrs. Kingston, the talented director of the dance program. More experienced students auditioned for Dance Company in the fall. Some students choreographed their own dances. Students performed dances taught by guest choreographers Gigi Arrington and Shirley Ririe. Dance concerts were held the 6th and 7th of February, and the 28th, 29th, and 30th of March. Dance styles ranged from classical and modern to new world and funky.

Ski Team

ROWLAND HALL-ST. MARK'S SKI TEAM

The RHSM Ski Team is composed of twenty-five students in grades 6 through 9. The team consists of Jeremy Agraz, Ali Akhavan, Avid Amiri, Jon Bone, Dan Conner, Erik Erlingsson, Patrick Gibbons, Sten Hoidal, Jon Holman, Thomas Hooker, Isaac Jeppsen, Peter Loebbecke, Adrienne McConnel, Sam McConnel, Kyle Nicholson, Keith Nielsen, Libby Ramsey, Erik Sorensen, Peter Spruance, Adam Strachan, Kendall Sumner, Ryland Sumner, Whit Taylor, Jason Tundermann, and Sam Weyher. Racers compete in races throughout the Intermountain area. They compete against other resort teams as well as against Rowmark. The whole team has made wonderful progress. Racers have individual goals they would like to achieve during their racing career, such as to make the Junior Olympic Team, Intermountain Championships, or Rowmark. Barbie Patterson-Kallerud coaches the RHSM Ski Team.

Rowmark

Girls' Tennis

This year's Girls' Tennis Team was "a very dedicated and determined group," according to coach Nikola Sorovic. He also adds, "The girls worked very well together, and our practices were productive." The team, which won the region championship, consisted of Brooke Baughman, first singles; Rachel Kulmer, second singles; Suzanne Palmer, third singles; Emily Sandack and Peggy Warner, first doubles; and Cassie Ferguson and Kristin Wenger, second doubles. Other members were Kara Kim, Ami Buchi, Dominique Rampton, Cari Johnson, Adrienne McConnell, and Michelle Stuart. Senior Brooke Baughman states, "Nikola's coaching ability was reflected in our success throughout the year."

Baseball

"Baseball is the metaphor for life," said Frank Langheinrich, a baseball coach. The Baseball Team, the regional co-champions, qualified for state. Losing only three seniors, the team for next year should be well stocked with experienced players. The players on the junior varsity team were Sam Weyher, Dan Conner, Joey Bentzley, John Coulter, Peter Loebbecke, Eric Langheinrich, Ed Wrenn, Adam Haigh, Chris Mark, Alex Reid, Aaron Barnes, and Jon Lee. The varsity team consisted of Bird Barber, Tom Kuhnel, Jim Crockett, Price Ellington, Steve Spurgeon, Chris Mark, Chris Nixon, Brian Conner, Chris Swindle, John Bloomberg, Jesse Lowe, Romney Williams, Jon Hodge, and Adam Carroll.

The varsity team record was 7 and 1. The junior varsity record was 5 and 2. The most valuable player on the j.v. team was Eric Langheinrich. The most valuable players on the varsity team were Brian Conner, Jesse Lowe, and Romney Williams. The most improved player was Chris Swindle. RHSM students enjoyed watching the game between Rowland Hall-St. Mark's and Mt. Vernon at Derk's Field in late September. Overall, the Baseball Team had an exceptionally great season, thanks to Coach Shwam and Coach Matthews.

This year's 89-90 Volleyball Team had a great year. Their record was 9 wins, 5 losses over all and 5 wins, 3 losses in their league. The varsity team included Kandyce Easton, Ellen Erlingsson, Mari Hoidal, Janell James, Mika Kato, Linda Lai, Jessica Lux, Gretchen Mathis, Amanda Maw, Jeni Nakao, Mona Okada, Lindsey Oswald, Tama Selekof, Sara Rock, and Ali Wilson, coached by Laurie Carpenter. The junior varsity team included Molly Billings, Sydney Brown, Tiffany Brown, Jessica Carroll, Yoko Inoue, Anuja Joshi, Jeanna Nixon, Niki Paulos, and Michelle Wade. This year's junior varsity team was fortunate to have their own dedicated coach, Tasha Poduska.

This year, the varsity team's skill and hard work took them all the way to the regional championships. Unfailing in their dedication and determination were old and new members and the coaches. Some popular team mottoes that kept the members' confidence throughout the season were: "Get the rhythm and make it happen," "Women's sports are important to the development of a well-rounded individual," and "It's not over 'till it's over."

Volleyball

Boys' Basketball

The 1989-1990 Boys' Basketball Team had another successful year. Varsity Coach Danny Shwam said, "The team got progressively better throughout the season." The varsity team included Adam Carroll, Price Ellington, Mark Kulmer, John Kleinschmidt, Scott Nuismer, Jim Crockett, Chris Mark, Steven Spurgeon, and David Piercey. The captains were Charley Lind, Wood Moyle, and Rick Rauschmeier. Cooper Haywood and Brad Butcher were the assistant coaches for the varsity team. The junior varsity team consisted of Wes Davie, Ed Wrenn, Angelo Chachas, Kory Hansen, David Kennedy, Andrew Paulos, Pete Paulos, Tom Zarr, Pat Lin, Bird Barber, Tom Kuhnel, David Early, Dustin Silvester, Stu Halliday, Marc Mathis, and Joe Bentzley. The coach was Hardin Davis; the assistant coach, Rich Rollins.

Girls' Basketball

The girls' Basketball Team had a successful season. They were undefeated in Division 2 of Region 11, which qualified them for the Region Playoffs. The varsity team consisted of Ellen Erlingsson, Mika Kato, Rachel Kulmer, Jessica Lux, Gretchen Mathis, and Ali Wilson. Cassie Ferguson, Janell James, and Tama Seleko played on both the varsity and junior varsity teams. Sydney Brown, Adriana Cespedes, Melinda Montgomery, and Jeni Nakao made up the junior varsity team. Using her outstanding ability as a basketball coach, Laurie Carpenter led her team to victory. Managers Kandyce Easton and Cari Johnson worked together to organize and provide support for team members.

Childhood gone?

I remember all the days which have gone by. Years before now. When I was a child we ran through the town and held our hands. We did all the things which we had planned. Where has it gone. Where has the childhood gone? For thousand of time we played down in the street. We had fun while we played hide and seek. We ran through the town like we'll never do any more. We did all the things which we should ignore. Where has it gone..? DK Fred
